Intensive Reading Intervention

Tampa Day School • Summer 2019

What is the Intensive Reading Program?

Tampa Day School has been successfully teaching reading for over 48 years to children who have not succeeded with traditional instructional approaches. We are pleased to be Tampa Bay's premier resource for an intensive, one-to-one instructional summer reading program. Our program differs from traditional approaches to remediate reading by integrating the senses of hearing, seeing and feeling to promote further reading development. Our clinicians use Lindamood-Bell®, Orton Gillingham® and other multi-sensory strategies based on reading research, targeting skills in the areas of phonemic awareness, spelling, reading fluency, vocabulary development, writing, higher-order thinking skills and comprehension. Based on your child's individual learning profile, a unique treatment plan is designed to meet your child's specific needs and maximize individual gains.

During the summer program children receive four sessions of individual instruction each day, five days a week, for five weeks. Detailed lesson plans are written every week and a log of every session is recorded. Parents are welcome to preview our program and/or your child's sessions during the program.

Which children benefit from our program?

This program is designed to improve the reading and spelling skills of:

- The child with a diagnosis of Dyslexia
- The child who has never grasped initial reading skills and has difficulty decoding words
- The child who reads the words accurately but does not understand what he reads
- The child who reads haltingly, lacking fluency and speed
- The older student who exhibits significant reading difficulties, despite years of instruction

Who are our reading clinicians?

All our clinicians are experienced in Lindamood- Bell®, Orton Gillingham® and other proven reading strategies, and are full-time teachers at TDS during the academic year.

How are your child's needs assessed?

We administer an extensive reading assessment for pre- and post-measurement as part of our summer program. In some cases, it is beneficial to have access to a full educational evaluation including cognitive processing measures to assess your child's underlying strengths and areas of weakness.

Once your child's specific reading needs have been identified through our assessment process, an individual plan for remediation is then developed to address those specific needs. Intervention strategies will be designed to target your child's weaknesses in the areas of phonemic awareness, word attack, spelling, sight words, reading fluency, reading accuracy, reading comprehension, oral comprehension, or written language skills.

Registration

Registration for the intensive summer reading intervention program begins on Monday, February 4, 2019 and must include the $800.00 deposit. Acceptance of registration materials does not guarantee enrollment in the program. Students must meet minimum testing qualifications to be considered for the full-time program and space is limited. Deposit fees will be returned if your child is not accepted into the program.

Please complete the attached registration form and mail it to the Tampa Day School address below, along with your $800.00 deposit. If current cognitive and achievement testing is available, please submit along with registration. Once your application is received, a staff member from the Learning Solution's office will call you to discuss program details, schedule pre-assessment testing as well as any additional educational evaluations that are required.
